Product specifics

The Solterra TI system is suitable for the residential and professional market and can be installed on all roof structures, old or new, regardless the type of covering, with an inclination between 16° and 65°. The modules are already profiled and require only to match the profiles of the panels. They are fastened to the tile with the hooks. Each panel can be removed and replaced individually.

Thanks to the special frame, this system replaces the covering of the roof and at the same time guarantees the watertightness of the roof.

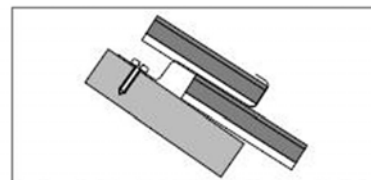

The modules are available with silver profile and white backsheet as well as with black profile and black backsheet.
